2. HIP INTERN PRACTICUM SUPERVISION

You must first secure a practicum supervisor to submit your application as a HIP Intern to the College. Application forms are available on our website: HIP Intern Application Form.

As a HIP Intern (formerly, “Student-HIP”), you must own or have access to the minimum equipment for the practice of the profession as required by the Registration Committee.

To qualify as your supervisor, the individual must be an Active registrant with the College as a Registered Hearing Instrument Practitioner (RHIP), and in active practice in British Columbia for a minimum of two years.

Your supervisor must provide the necessary clinical setting to the HIP Intern s/he supervises if they are to sign-off on Student Declarations and Work Plan objectives and may supervise a maximum of two HIP Interns concurrently. Supervisors and HIP Interns must be located at the same place of business, with the exception noted under ‘general supervision’ (see below).

As a HIP Intern, you must inform the Registrar in advance of any proposed change in supervisor or work location during your practicum period.

You must complete 660 supervised hours within 12 consecutive months from the date of Student-HIP application acceptance. Practicum hours commence once you have been approved as a HIP Intern.

- Close Supervision

During the first 330 practicum hours, you may provide clinical services, but always under direct, onsite supervision. During this phase, you must practice under close supervision, with the supervisor on site 100% of the time. The supervisor must co-sign your written reports, audiograms, and verification measures. As a HIP Intern, you may not provide services to clients in the supervisor's absence from the clinic.

- General Supervision

During the final 330 practicum hours, your supervisor will provide general supervision; that is, the supervisor monitors the actions performed by you, co-signs your written reports, audiograms, and verification measures. The supervisor must also be available for case discussions and will review case files at least weekly. You may provide services to clients on occasions when the supervisor is not in the clinic, provided the supervisor is available for consultation via telephone or electronic means, provided the supervisor is present in the clinic at least 60% of the time you are providing clinical services.

Upon completion of your practicum hours requirement, you and your supervisor must complete the Work Plan – Declaration form, attesting to the completion of your practicum hours, and submit it to the College at: enquiries@cshhpb.org

3. EXAMINATIONS

- IHS Written Examination

Although a majority of HIP Interns choose to sit for the IHS written examination upon completion of their practicum hours requirement, you may write the written examination at any time after you have been approved as a HIP Intern.

The written examination was developed by the International Hearing Society (IHS). It is an objective, multiple choice examination comprised of 5 scales which are based on the 5 core areas of competency.

Please advise the College when you decide to sit for the written examination. At that time, your name and email address will be provided to IHS who will then contact you to arrange for the web-based examination. You must pay them directly for the cost of the written exam which is currently $225 US. You will be notified of your results within 7-10 days of the examination date. You must pass the written examination to be eligible to take the College practical exam. If you do not pass the written examination on your first attempt, you may be granted up to a maximum number of three attempts to pass.
